CONSOLIDATION MEADOW LAKE MINES IS MADE

Consolidation of three mining properties on Old Man Mountain in Nevada county, California, has been effected and plans are well formulated to finance development said Ralph Pierce, who came to Reno Monday from San Francisco to file articles o f incorporation of the Metals Products Co. The company has capital stock of $5,000,000 represented by 500,000 shares of stock, par value $10.

The properties acquired by the Metals Products Co. are the Carlisle, taken over from the Royal Mining & Development Co., Canadian Maple Leaf and Edison, a total of 30 claims in one compact group. Stockholders of the Royal will receive one share of Metals Products stock for each sixteen shares held.

Old Man Mountain is a prominent peak and mines have been worked there in a small way for twenty-five years. The veins are mostly in granodiorite and the principal values are in gold. On the north side of the mountain amalgamation mills were operated at the Excelsior and other mines several years ago.

The property of the Metals Products Co. is on the south slope of Old Man Mountain, about six miles north of Cisco on the Southern Pacific railroad and two and a half miles southwest of Fordyce lake, where the P. G. & E has a power plant. The plan of development is drive a tunnel 1270 feet into the mountain which will cut five fissures that show ore on the surface. The first vein will cut at a depth on the slope of 1000 feet and the last vein at about 2200 feet.

The ore is sulphide almost to the sufaee and only a small percentage of the gold is free. The company proposes to employ flotation to concentrate the ore when the mine is sufficiently developed. Electric power lines run within a mile or two of the tunnel site and a railroad is within six miles, presenting advantages in operation.

Frank Jordan, secretary of state of California, is one of the prominent men interested in the project. Others are E. S. Van Leer of Paso Robles, A A. Bowman, vice president of the California Transportation Co. operating a line of steamers between San Francisco, Stockton and Sacramento, and Herbert C. Hall of the Hall Frog and Switch Co., Chicago. A Chicago brokerage house is said to have underwritten 100,000 shares of stock to net the company $331,250.—Nevada Mining Press.

LARGE DELEGATION OF ELKS TO DOWNIEVILLE

SAN FRANCISCO BANK CONGRATULATES NUGGET

The following letter is self explanatory:—

M. A. A. Willoughby,
Nevada City Nugget:

It is with pleasure that Wells Fargo Bank & Union Trust Company notices the progress that is being made by the mining men of California, particularly the effort to organize all of the mining interests under one mining association, as honducted at the meeting by the miners of California September 4 in Sacramento under the auspices of the Northern California Mining Association and the Chamber of Commerce Mining Bureau. I understand that President Hoover is giving special attention to this needed development which confirms the farsighted expression of John W. Mackay who, at the time, said "California has not been scratched". As one of the organizers of this great effort I congratulate you.

We are at this time compiling data on mining in California and Nevada and should be pleased to have any information relative to the properties in your section in order that this report may be as complete as possible.

We also have an Engineering Department headed by Mr. F. T. Letchfield, Consulting Engineer and Assistant Vice President, who is an expert in rendering valuable information in all industrial and mining branches. It will give me great pleasure to have you meet Mr. Letchfield and discuss your problems with him. The service of this department is available to you and your friends at all times.

Very truly yours,
George L. Woolrich.

NEW MACHINERY PLACED AT TRIPLE POCKET MINE

Suface machinery is now being installed at the Triple Pocket mine in Slug Canyon near Downieville by Brown & York, owners and operators. A new hoist and compressor have been packed in to the property the past few days and will be put in operation. The completion of the water system has made possible the installation of the machinery and the property will be operated throughout the winter.

Past production is said to have been nearly a quarter of a million from several pockets.

HI SHEARER LOOKING FOR CITY TAX MONEY

City Tox Collector Hiram Shearer is anxiously scanning the horizon for tax payers as he says the property owners have not been coming in as fast so far, as he would like them to. The dead line to escape paying penalties is Monday, October 14th, and if you have not settled your tax bill by that time you will likely find yourself advertised in the delinquent ranks according to law.

GOLF TOURNAMENT

Another tournament was enjoyed on the local course yesterday with prizes presented by the committee. A chicken stew was enjoyed at one o'clock, prepared by Joe Perkins.

Mr. and Mrs Harry Grover and Mr and Mrs. Donald Grover, Fred Grover and Miss Alice Grover, all of Berkeley attended the funeral of their father, the late Newton F. Grover.

The quartz gold discovery marker being prepared for erection at Grass Valley will be formally dedicated on October 20th according to present plans.

The Grass Valley Chamber of Commerce will conduct a membership drive shortly.

STATE MINER MEETING ON SATURDAY PROMISES FINE LARGE ATTENDANCE

Invitations have been sent over the week end to nearly 700 mining men of Nevada, Sierra and Placer counties to attend the meeting in behalf of the mining industry in Nevada City next Saturday. A gratifying response has already been received and it is expected that there will be a hearty response and a large attendance.

The meeting is not being held to institute a heavy membership campaign as with the interest being taken the voluntary membership so far has exceeded all preliminary expectations. Membership cards will be available at the meeting to all those who wish to align themselves with the new movement which is the biggest event in behalf of the mineral industry in the past decade. The meeting is being held with the primary idea of educating our mining men to what a live, progressive and active association can accomplish in combatting the many handicaps that have been imposed on the industry in the past years due to lack of proper organization. Compensation insurance costs are proving the largest hurdle the mining companies have to meet in expenses of development and operation and the work so far in the new association shows that this cost can be largely reduced thru coopoerative insurance by the association to a figure that will make itself immediately attractive to the companies who are interested in reducing their overhead costs. Speakers will point just what the association can do in the important matter of carrying compensation insurance.

The meeting of the state association directors at Sacragmento Wednesday resulted in the selection of James M. Hill of San Francisco as the president for the coming year. His election was a happy one as he stands high in the mining profession and as he is active and aggresive puts him as the proper person to direct the destinies of the new movement thru its preliminary development. Mr. Hill was formerly the Pacific Coast representative of the United States Bureau of Mines and as such gained a valuable insight into the needs of the mining industry of the state. He is highly respected and his willingness to assume the duties of the presidency assures the association the services of one who will give much time and thought to its future well being.

The meeting Saturday afternoon will be preceded by an Italian dinner served commencing at one o'clock in the Elks dining hall following which the business session will get under way in the Elk club rooms with State Director Arthur W. Hoge as the opening chairman. A large delegation of association members from Sacramento will be in attendance including R. L. Kimmel, state secretary, and who has been largely responsible for the formation of the organization and its impetus thus far.

There are already a number of members of the association from Nevada county and it is expected that a large number will speak ing membership as soon as the movement is well understood. Membership fees have been set as low as good business will warrant and will assure the state association ample funds to prosecute its work unhampered. Individual memberships cost but $5 per year and carry full privileges. All corporations, companies, co-partnerships of approved standing engaed in mining for or in the production of mineral products may be admitted to membership on the payment of $10 per year where 25 or less men are employed and $25 a year for more than 25 men. Sustaining memberships cost $100 per year and carry the privilege of naming an honorary vice president entitled to attend and address all director's meetings. Chambers of commerce, trade associations and other civic and promotion bodies or business firms may take out association memberships for a minimum annual contribution of $10. The price of membership is extremely moderate considering the benefits to be derived.

The association is designed to appeal to all classes engaged in the mineral industry down to the prospector. The various forms of mining are covered and actively represented, there being eight mineral mining bodies to be organized as follows: placer gold; lode gold, silver and other precious metals; copped, lead, zinc and other base metals; structural and industrial materials; merucry; salines, clays; other nonmetallics. The oil industry will not be represented, having its own distinctive orgasization.

The postal card invitation sent out for the Saturday meeting states that the meeting is for the purpose of discussion of the aims and intents of the new organization and of the various problems confronting the mining men of the state, chief among which are compensation insurance and taxation. The meeting is open to everyone interested in mining in any way and all are welcome to attend the meeting which will be held in the Elks club rooms. The invitation is signed by Directors Arthur W. Hoge of Nevada City, Errol MacBoyle of Grass Valley and Robert L. Hanley of Sierra county, James D. Stewart of Auburn and A. A. Willoughby of Nevada City.

Anyone wishing reservations for the dinner which will cost but one dollar a plate should get in touch with one of the above named prior to Saturday if possible so that an idea of the number to prepare for may be obtained. Charles Colombo of the Hotel Italia promises a real feast of raviolas and chicken in ample quantity.

The meeting will adjourn early enough that those having long drives to make to get home can get started in ample season. Arrangements will be made to accomodate members of the press which will be well represented.

It is to be hoped that Nevada county will be largely represented at the meeting as this county being the livest gold mining camp in the state has the most to gain from the operations of the new association. Come whether you are planning on joining the association at the present time or not. You will be heartily welcome.

BRUSH CREEK MINE IS HAVING WATER TROUBLE

Milling operations at the Brush Creek mine near Mountain House are at a standstill pending settlement of the tailings problem. A Goodyear Bar resident, owner of a small water irrigation ditch, has filed a complaint with the debris commission and it is reported that the Kate Hardy company has been unable so far to come to terms with the result that one of Sierra county's most promising quartz properties is tied up and many payroll dollars are lost to Sierra county. It is an unfortunate situation in every way as the Brush Creek has been operating a 10 stamp mill steadily for some months and has been showing good production. It is to be hoped that the ditch owner and the company can come to some terms so that the mill may resume operations at an early date.

HENRY CARTER PASSES

Henry Jeff Carter, one time deputy sheriff and brother of Randolph Carter of this city passed away at Sacramento last week. He was a native of North Bloomfield, born there in 1861. For some years he was in the clothing business in this city with George E. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Schmidt have as visitors her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. John Bandemar of San Francisco.

Mrs Beatrice Trebilcox who is leaving Grass Valley to make her future home in Oakland, was given a farewell party at the Methodist parsonage one evening last week.

Mrs. A. A. Willoughby and children spent the week end at North San Juan.

SHAFT SINKING BEING FOLLOWED AT BOREHAM

The shaft at the property of the Grass Valley Boreham Gold Mining Company south of town is being sunk deeper at the present time and continues in a favorable showing although somewhat past the rich shoot opened up some weeks ago. The mill is not being operated at the present time entire attention being given to opening up sufficient ore to warrant stady milling.

A. O. Witte of Los Angeles is president of the company, Austin Boreham is superintendent.

MENDELL WAS VISITOR OWNER GRAVEL MINES

John A. Mendell of San Francisco, principal owner in the Mount Zion group of gravel mines in the Snow Tent section, was a Nevada City business visitor Saturday on his way to the city after an inpection trip to his properties. He was a caller at The Nugget office.

The Mt. Zion group consists of 169 acres of promising territory adjoining the McKillican, Tirenta and Honduras properties. There are two tunnels run in to tap the gravel channel. The upper one is in 1900 feet and in promising ground. The lower one was well in toward the channel when a heavy flow of water caused cessation of operations. The last work done at the properties was in 1902 by leasers and since that time the mine has been idle. It is Mr. Mendell's intention to bond the properties.

The property is owned by the Mt. Zion Gravel Mining Company.

GRIFFITH REPORTS FINE INTEREST APPLE DISPLAY

W. H. Griffith has returned from Southern California where he spent three days with the apple exhibit that was sent south after its showing at the recent state fair in the Nevada county exhibit. He was loaded down with ribbbons and cups won at the Pomona fair, there being an apple sweepstakes cup and a cup for first prize rack display, 27 first prize ribbons and 12 second prize ribbons. He reported a great deal of interest taken in the exhibit by the hundreds of visitors and was kept busy answering questions on Nevada county. The cups and ribbons are on display in the court house corridor where they have good company in the numerous prizes won at the Panama Pacific in 1915.

NEW SUBSCRIBERS ARE COMING VOLUNTARILY

Over fifty new subscriptions have been added to The Nugget mailing list the past few weeks, three coming Saturday, without any solicitation whatever. This is a fine testimonial to the effectiveness of the paper in advertising the mineral resouces of this section and already The Nugget is known the country over for its mining articles which are widely quoted and copied. Less than three years old and to have achieved such a reputation is something to be proud of.

PARTY KILLS BEAR

A party of hunters consisting of Charles Bennetts, Gordon Anderson and A. F. Thore were out hunting in Shady Creek canyon near Tyler the past week when they ran onto an old she bear and two cubs. Anderson dropped the older bear with a well directed shot and Bennetts wounded one of the cubs. The other one escaped. The large one scaled 300 pounds on the beam and the fur was in good condition for this early in the season. Ray Teale is mounting the hide.

Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Carter attended the funeral of his brother, the late H. J Carter, in Sacramento last week.

The Nugget publisher has been named chairman of the Nevada County Trails of '49 Committee by Hilliard Welch, president.

A LARGE MINING DEVELOPMENT BEING EFFECTED

With the pending developments in the mining district just west of town, another large development will be announced for the local field in the very near future. The Nugget is not privileged in this issue to divulge the name of the properties involved or the parties who are behind the development but it will prove one of the largest operations in the district in many years when fully matured.

The deal has been under way for some time to open up one of the promising properties which has immense possibilities in the way of high grade milling ore and which has shown good production in the past but has been idle for some years. There is ample acreage in the property to assure large operations and but comparatively little underground work will be necessary at the outset to open up a known ore shoot. Eatern capital is behind the project and is preparing to spend a large amount of money in the district.

With the large developments under way at the Hoge properties north of town, the fine prospects at the Murchie property since the advent of O. A. McCraney as resident manager, the developments at the Cascade properties and the coming of electric power to the large Spanish group, things are rapidly assuming a roseate hue for quartz mining once more in this famous camp. With the new state mining association getting rapidly under way and promising to bring about many improvements in the costs of metal mining, there is no reason why gold mining should not once more assume its rightful place in California.

Hurtful litigation which has held back some of our potential producers and the selfish attitude of some of our mining property owners who want their palms crossed with a lot of coin before permitting any development, are two of the things with which mining investors have had to contend in large measure. The first is rapidly disappearing, the other is yet with us. Litigation had a lot to do with the decline of mining in the Champion district west of town in past years.

TWIN SISTER TUNNEL IN OVER 1100 FEET

The large Tunnel No. 3 being driven at the Twin Sister mine to cut under the rich ore shoot opened up in the upper level had reached a distance of 1110 feet from the adit on Saturday according to word reaching The Nugget. Conditions in the face are very promising for cutting the ledge with any round of shots and the crew are making about three feet a day. Electric power is not yet to the property but is expected to be ready for the installation in several weeks which will speed up development operations considerably as the combination of water power and gas engine has not produced steady enough power to run but a single shift in the tunnel.

President Ray O. Foster is spending a few days at Reno but is expected to return in time for the mining meeting on Satuday.

BRIDGE PAINTING CONTRACT

The contract for painting the Pine street bridge over Deer creek has been let by the city trustees to D. E. Burgess of Stockton who has agreed to do the work for $2400, some $1400 under his previous bid, alterations having been made. The iron work surface is to be sand blasted and two coats of paint applied. The work has been started.

Miss Margaret Peard, who holds a position with the Bank of America is planning to go to Honolulu in a short time on a vacation.

Local Legionnaires will stage a card party Wednesday to assist a buddy in completing his home near town.

ROUGH AND READY JOTS

ROUGH and READY, Sept. 28, (Special to The Nugget)— Well, Autumn is here again with its cooler days and nights, indicating the approach of winter.

The woods are full of hunters but deer seem to be scarce. Ben Taylor has just returned from Jackson Meadows, where he has been hunting, and gave all his friends a piece of venison. He killed a big deer which makes local hunters want to make the trip there themselves.

Several from here are leaving tonight for Jesse Ennor's camp for the Sunday hunt.

Mrs. E. G. Williford and Mrs Hollingworth of Oakland were visiting here Thursday with R. L. Capps and family. They were returning from Oregon where they have been spending a vacation.

C. M. Titus and wife and mother spent Sunday September 15th in this locality dove hunting. They were accompanied by Miss Louise Solario of Shasta county who is attending Junior College in Sacramento. Mr. Titus is district manager fo the Durant Motor Cmpany over northern California and Oregon. Every year he comes to Nevada county to hunt doves at the Al Black anch on the McCourtney road. He made the trip in a Durant 75 in an hour and twenty minutes. While here they were also the guests of R. L. Capps and family.

Supervisor Frank has two trucks and two wagons and a crew of six men busy hauling gravel on the Pleasant Valley-Bridgeport road. They expect to be there a week longer.

A. E. McCrea, local ditch tender has retuned from the Nevada City Sanitarium whee he has been undergoing treatment, under Dr. Werner.

Ethel Capps, 2 month old daugh' ter of R. L. Capps was taken ill with convulsions Thursday and Dr. Jones was hurriedly called. Although she is not entirely well she is greatly improved and able to be out of bed.

A HIGH SCHOOL GLEE CLUB

By Margaret Rector

"To have a glee club, or not to have a glee club?"—that is the question. While the determination of such a matter, so far as Nevada City High is concerned, rests, of course, with the findings of Mr. Wilson, Miss O'Neill and the other members of our respected faculty, nevertheless, a few words on this subject may not be out of order.

In the first place, the easiest instrument accessible to every high school student consists of his own voice. It is an instrument ready at hand,—easy to blow—(sometimes too easy)— needs no strings, no rosin, no electric current to operate it—nothing, in fact, save an occasional Smith Brothers cough drop for the boys and a gum drop for the girls. The Board of Education will not have to spend a single cent for properties. True, some one suggests that under the operation of a crew of beginners, the results at first might be somewhat terrifying. But could the gentle vox humana, I ask singly or collectively offend the welkin with such a hullabaloo as that created by a Boys' Band broken loose, or a quartet of violins trying to tune to A, when the trombone player is cooing himself of lullaby in B flat?

However, it is not the purpose of these words to berate orchestra and band. We need them both. It is merely to point out that we have the material for a glee club at hand, and that, under Miss O'Neill's capable direction, a really creditable chorus can be trained in a short time if everyone will work earnestly. Last, I wish to add that the Glee Club would be a splendid feature of entertainment at practically all High School occasions Not only the High School, but the community, might find the High School Glee a pleasing addition to many social and musical programs.

So, let us hope that a way may be found for the club and that each will do his level best, in this case, to develop a musical organization that will be a credit to our school and our city. It is possible for us to have a glee club after school hours even though enough pupils can not be secured for the organization at any one period of the day. Let's settle it in the affirmative and do it now.

OUR SCHOOL YARD

By Ruth Gleason

To keep our school in good condition and our school rooms cheerful is one thing we pupils should strive for.

The first real move was made when the Wowen's Civic Club placed pretty shrubbery around and near the building. We should have blooming plants, not just a few, but bunches of blooms peeping out from every room.

Each pupil should bring some pretty plant to place in a window. These plants would make our rooms take on a more cheerful air. What is education for but to make our lives and those around us filled with beautiful thoughts?

Windows filled with flowers would help us. Pleasant and colorful surroundings would aid us. Why not make the move? We can do it. We of the Nevada City High School can do what other schools have done.

Verne Gleason made a campaign speech for Walter Huson to act as treasurer and Gertrude Merriott and Bill Rector declared themselves in favor of Margaret Rector.

Bob Polglase, last year's vice president, had charge of the meeting.

DUCKLES GIVES TALK

F. M. Duckles, Associate State Secretary, representing the Young Men's Christian Associations of California, gave a talk at the Nevada City High School on "Principles in Choosing a Life Work"

This question is regarded as one of the most important of today. Mr Duckles emphasized that the three important principles in choosing a life work are: Patience, Preparation and Purpose.

After the enjoyable speech, as the students passed out of the Assembly a pamphlet was handed to each one. This pamphlet contained an account by Charles A. Lindbergh on "Charting His Course".

MISS TREMAINE'S GIFT

Miss Esther Tremaine, a member of the Nevada City high school alumni has made a recent gift of ten volumnes of Chambers Encyclopedias to the high school library.

The members of the student body and faculty appreciate the reference books as well as the spirit that prompted one of the alumni to remember the school with these books. It is hoped that other exstudents will find it possible to fill other needs of the school.

Forest Ogden has been here from Oakland visitin his aunt, Mrs. J R. Ivey.

Women "Made Good"

In the spring of 1862 M. F. E. Spinner, treasurer of the United States, prevailed upon Secretary Chase to permit him to appoint a woman to cut and trim United States currency. This work was then being done with shears in the hands of men. He appointed Miss Jennie Douglas, and, as he afterward expressed it, "her first day's work settled the matter in her and in woman's favor." On October 9, 1862, the following woman employees were appointed: Miss Fannie L. Halstead, Miss Annie York, Miss Belle S. Tracy, Miss Elizabeth Stoner, Miss Mary Burke. They were the first women for whom congress regularly made an appropriation.

Queer Wills

Elizabeth Orby Hunter may have been a little odd, but she tempered her eccentricities with caution. When she died in 1813 she bequeathed 200 guineas a year "to my beloved parrot, the faithful companion of 25 years," but she also added a proviso to the effect that whoever had the bird in charge must prove its identity twice a year when the money was paid, or the annuity ceased.

Equally odd was the will of an English lady who left 70 pounds a year for the support of her three goldfish, including a provision for flowers to be put upon their graves when they finally shook off their mortal fins.

MOBLEY TEAM TROTTING WELL OUT IN BOWLING

By taking three points from the Curnow aggreation of pin spillers the past week, the Mobley team is resting well in front of the field. The three teams are closely bunched with the Percy Carrs a scant point in front of the Fortiers and Curnow a point still further behind.

The attendance of the bowlers was quite improved the past weel and by another week things should be sailing under a full head of steam. The Mobley sported a full team Tuesday night while on Wednesday the Carrs and Fortiers had four each.

Mobley has been slipping somewhat from his first appearance but he still leads the field in individual averages, and in number of strikes He is tied for first place on spares. His average has slipped four points but still maintains a lead of four points over the field. If he can keep up his present gait he will be a serious contender for topnotch honors for the season.

Tamblyn is throwing a pretty ball but it seems to miss the breaks on getting the pins and Bill is quite a ys behind on making his spares. Hoge is hitting louie pretty regularly and when he keeps his control is getting fine marks as his ball comes well into the pins to mow them down. Leiter is having a lot of trouble controlling his steam which has made his work erratic. Dave Richards has been unable to get his portside ball working smoothly so far but he is one of the hardest workers on the alleys and one of the most dependable bowlers. Scheemer is bringing his average up nicely and looks to clear the 150 mark shortly at the rate he is going. Percy Carr got away to a flying start in his first game Wednesday with a 191 but slipped a cog in the second game. His game was the high score for the week. Nickless showed some fancy stuff in h second game with a 172. Doc Bel who got off in his flying start in his maiden appearance in tournament work has not been seen around the alleys since for some reason. Keller shows in his work that he has been a bowler and with some practice will be making some of the boys bestir themselves.

The scores follow:

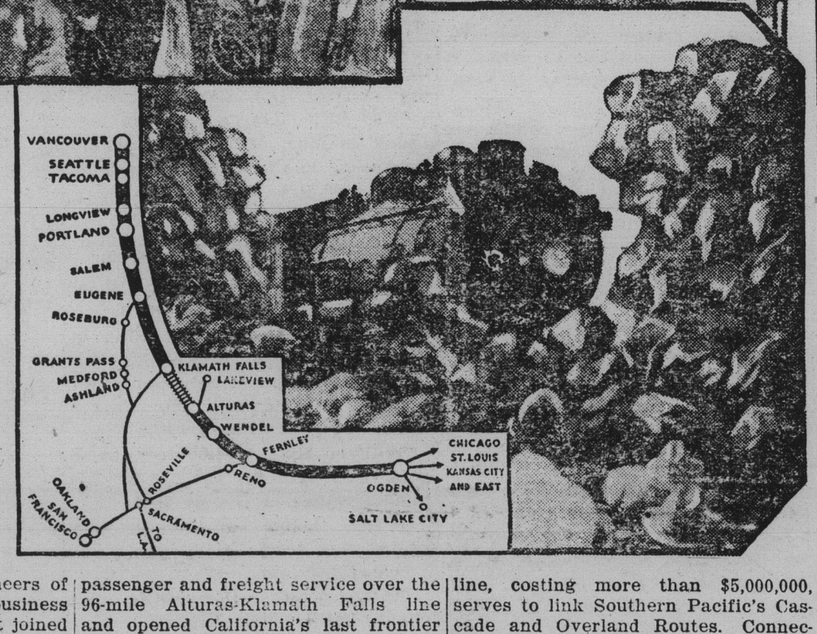
New Rail Shortcut Links West With East



(Above) Piute and Klamath Indians ride the first Iron Horse on Southern Pacific's new Alturas-Klamath Transcontinental Cut-Off, linking the Pacific Northwest with the East. (Upper right) Capt. O. C. Applegate, Oregon pioneer and Modoc Indian War veteran, who participated in the ceremonies at dedication of new rail line. (Right) First train crashes through papier-mache barrier at Hackamore, California, formally opening for passenger and freight service the 96-mile link between Alturas and Klamath Falls.

COWBOYS and Indians, pioneers of covered wagon days and business men from all parts of the West joined recently in a colorful celebration marking completion of the Southern Pacific Company's new $9,000,000 transcontinental cut-off from the Pacific Northwest to the East.

Contrasting the old West and the new, the dedicatory program at Hackamore, Modoc county, Calif., September 14, reached a thrilling climax when a giant locomotive crashed through the scenic reproduction of a mountain range. The breaking of the barrier cleared the way for regular passenger and freight service over the 96-mile Alturas-Klamath Falls line and opened California's last frontier to rail transportation.

Indians, squaws and papooses of the Klamath and Piute Reservations came to the celebration and witnessed arrival of the Iron Horse of today, just as wild tribesmen of 60 years ago gathered in awe along the Central Pacific Railroad as transcontinental travel changed from "trail to rail." Cowboys, loggers, ranchmen and veteran Indian fighters also gave real western atmosphere to the festivities.

The new Alturas-Klamath Falls rail line, costing more than $5,000,000, serves to link Southern Pacific's Cascade and Overland Routes. Connection is made at Alturas with the former Nevada California Oregon Railroad, acquired recently by the Southern Pacific and standard-gauged at a cost of approximately $4,000,000.

This completes the railroad company's $88,000,000 construction program which brings Oregon and northern California more than 200 miles nearer the markets of the East and provides a shorter route between California and Oregon over the Cascade line.

FRENCH CORRAL, Sept. 28, (Special to The Nugget—Dryness still prevails. The weather extremely cold for this time of the year. Jack Frost is prowling nightly, but he finds nothing but dried up gardens and can do no harm. A good rain would be so welcome even if it did spoil grapes and figs. When we pointed out the well, he seemed surprised. He was judging from the appearance of things.

Clyde Browning made a business trip to Nevada City Monday.

Calvin Meyers and sister, Mrs. Mabel Mernick of Oakland, visited their father, Thos. Meyers, Monday and Tuesday. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Keating and Mrs. Small.

A. Browning and sons are engaged in cleaning up the wreck of an old barn on the Chas. French place. This recalls an incident of "the good old days". This big barn was built in 1877 and after the big timbers were framed and put together the men of the neighborhood enjoyed the jollification of a "barn raising". When the biulding was finished the late Chas. D. French and E. Griffith, two dashing bachelors of the community conceived the idea of giving a free dance. Every one was invited, and the elite of the Ridge was in attendance Music was furnished by German's String Band,—the best to be had at that time and at midnight a delicious supper was served. It was a beautiful moonlight night, (will say here, French Corral moonlight was always the most beautiful), and the supper was served out of doors. Electric lights were not in use then and lanterns were hung in the surrounding oaks. It was a grand affair and thoroughly enjoyed by all in attendance and is ever a happy memory.

Harry and Clyde Browning went to Cornish Meadows Tuesday. Clyde returned Tuesday evening.

Richard Hadenbrook and mother and siter made a trip to Grass Valley Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Moulton visited friends in Sebatopol Thursday.

We were sorry to learn of the death of Jeff Carter and extend sympathy to the members of his family. So many of our old Ridgites are passing to the Great Beyond.

By an oversight, we regret that we omitted mention of the death of Roland Gardner of Alleghany, in last week's items. As a member of the Alleghany band he became known to us in playing for our dances. Many hearts were filled with sorrow over the news of his untimely death .By his happy genial maner he made friends of all. On every hand was heard the expression, "Poor Sparkis." for he was beloved by all. Our deepest sympathy is with his family and the community in which he lived. We are sure the gloom his death has caused, can not be soon dispelled.

A HARD LUCK TALE

The following from the Ukiah Republican Press is about the limit for tough luck:

A San Francisco man, who gave his name as D. J Smith, is convinced he was the victim of a "jinx" last week while on a hunting trip to Mendocino county.

Can You Beat It

The morning of his arrival in the deer country the trouble started when his eyeglasses, kept in a leather case in a vest pocket, fell into the campfire while Mr. Smith was leaning over the coals preparing breakfast. Before he could rescue the glasses they were badly smoked from the burning leather. Being unable to see long distances without them he was disconsolate until a companion suggested he try baking soda, which was plentiful in camp, to polish away the smoke stain.

Worked Too Fast

Over-zealous in his efforts, the glasses snapped in the pressure of his fingers and chewing gum was resorted to to hold the glasses together while he made a hasty departure for this city to consult an optician. Enoute here Mnday he stopped at a spring for a cooling drink of water and while bending over, in the act of drinking his false teeth fell from his mouth and were broken on a rock.

That's Not Half of It

Hot and discouraged the "jinx" victim decided to take a dip in the flowing water of Cold creek, attractively alluring from the Ukiah-Tahoe highway over which he was traveling. No sooner had he submerged his tired body than a state highway crew, working above him turned loose the contents of a steam hovel, which almost smothered him in the debris. The last and crowning blow of all came when the startled man opened his eyes to see four rattlesnakes angrily emerging from the loose dirt and rock and moving menacing in his direction. His cries brought the road crew to his assistance and the reptiles were dispatched and Mr. Smith lost no time in getting into town to have the damages to his glasses and teeth repaired.

Lawrence E. Calanan of near San Juan visited in Nevada City recently.

Mrs. Mary E. Campbell of North Columbia visited in this city.

Peter Jonson of Moores Flat was a recent Nevada City visitor.
